

MAGAZINE.IL

Travel
Bird watching in Israel
in Spring

Israel-HK co-operation
MoU
in industrial R&D

Photo: Israeli Ministry of Tourism

Consulate General of Israel in Hong Kong and Macau

February 2014

Dear friends,

I am pleased to inform you that the governments of Israel and Hong Kong SAR have finally signed a memorandum of understanding on co-operation in industrial research and development. It provides a framework for us to jointly invest and develop new technologies.

We will introduce two Israeli technologies that are operating in China: a water purifying system that helped make sure that pools were clean during the Beijing 2008 Olympics and will be employed in the Guangdong region; and a solution that helps coordinate emergency teams so they can respond faster to save lives.

If you don't know it yet, Israel's location at the heart of the only land corridor between Europe and Africa makes it a world-class center for bird watching. At least 500 million birds of 200 different species fly across Israel each spring on their way to and from Africa, Europe and Asia. Please come to visit Israel and enjoy.

Sagi Karni
Consul General of Israel

Israel and Hong Kong sign R&D MoU

This Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) on co-operation in industrial research and development (R&D) will be set to build on the momentum of a fast developing tie between the two economies, and lead to more cross fertilisation of ideas, innovation and market opportunities. More >>

Talk at HKUST

Consul General Sagi Karni talked to the students and staff of the HK University of Science and Technology on how Israel has emerged as a start up nation from the land of milk and honey. More >>

Keeping a Blue eye on the world's water

Electro-optic systems from Israel are keeping municipal and food production water supplies, as well as pools, from contamination. More >>

Tadiran's dispatch technology for critical missions

The Aeonix Dispatch Console developed in Israel is helping emergency dispatchers do a better job in India and China. More >>

Study in Israel

Tel Aviv University International offers a broad selection of English-taught undergraduate and graduate degrees, as well as short-term summer and intensive language programmes. Scholarships are available for Chinese students. More >>

Two bird-watching events in the spring

Israel's location at the heart of the only land corridor between Europe and Africa, and its status as a world biodiversity hotspot, makes it a world-class center for bird watching. More >>

In HK Exhibition of Holocaust survivor "Surviving Evil: The Pictorial Language of Sara Atzmon" at HKU >>