Suzanne Dellal Celebrates 25 Years of Dance

The Suzanne Dellal Centre, a home and stage for dance, an architectural gem and cultural wellspring in Neve Tzedek, will celebrate their 25th anniversary this year! Sharing the joy with everyone, there will be an abundance of special activities, both at the center, and countrywide, to mark the festive occasion.

Suzanne Dellal has become a focal point, not only for dance aficionados, but for the many travelers and photographers who have documented the elegant buildings and open, welcoming courtyard. An exhibition of photos taken by visitors to Suzanne Dellal over the years will be on display in mid-April, as well as an exhibit of photographs from the dance.

Tel Aviv Dance, the annual festival of Israeli and international dance will be a major part of the festivities, taking place from April 30 – June 13, 2014. Some exceptional dance companies will be coming to Israel; it's an excellent opportunity to see the work of significant international choreographers

Purim street parties

Purim is a Jewish holiday observed on March 16, 2014. It commemorates the deliverance of the Jewish people in the ancient Persian Empire from destruction in the wake of a plot by Haman. According to the Book of Esther, in the Hebrew Bible, Haman, royal vizier to King Ahasuerus (presumed to be Xerxes I of Persia), planned to kill all the Jews in the empire, but his plans were foiled by Mordecai and his adopted daughter Queen Esther. The day of deliverance became a day of feasting and rejoicing.

Purim has more of a national than a religious character, and its status as a holiday is on a lesser level than those days ordained holy by the Torah. Accordingly, business transactions and even manual labor are allowed on Purim. One can find many parades and Street Parties everywhere...

9,000-year-old stone masks all originated in the same region in the ancient Land of Israel

The Israel Museum brings together for the first time a rare group of 9,000-year-old stone masks, the oldest known to date, in a new exhibition starting 11/3. Culminating nearly a decade of research, "Face to Face: The Oldest Masks in the World" showcases 12 extraordinary Neolithic masks, all originating in the same region in the ancient Land of Israel.

Originally they are all from the same region, found within only about 30 km. from each other in the Judean Hills and nearby in the Judean Desert. It is the first time that the group will be shown together, in their birthplace, and also the first time that the majority of them will be on public view, as they are usually part of private collections. The Israel Museum has held in its collections two Neolithic stone masks so far.

David Guetta - A Party 424 Meters under the Sea

David Guetta closed out 2013 in a big way – by throwing a massive gig at the lowest point on Earth.

MASADA is 424 meters below sea level, and Guetta decided it was the perfect location to hold a massive, spectacular live show. It's the first time electronic music has ever been heard in the amazing location, and watching the video, it looks absolutely breathtaking
